

Tuesday Tuesday 27th September
I am learning to write a diary entry.

Spelly gong farmer gresh air fields tanner

Chicken ~~gong~~ drowned in ~~gong~~ twisted Streets

nut means edible wild bird (pheasant chicken)

★ Great note taking.

Dear diary

Today I am starting my new job as a <sup>I think</sup> gong farmer gresh air and grassy fields. <sup>soon</sup> I am going to meet my dad to start.

When I am walking down the street I wonder if it is not like I thought no gresh air no dwey fields

Then I realise it is not when I meet my dad he tells me "lets get to work than" and I wonder what he is going to do and he says "come on than shovel up some gong" and he does it. Then I say

"can you smell its disgusting, unthinkble and sort of trying to be sweet". The next morning I wake up and go down into the street and my greinds dad says to me do you want to be a tanner and be my aprentice for a tanner than I go and tell my dad and he says "dary" but lets me do it when I get there its nothing like I thaght shoveling dead animal skin in gong. "I HATE THIS JOB"

* I love how you started to edit and improve your writing.

* Super use of capital letters in the final sentence for expression.

* Re-read your opening sentence.

⊙ How could you edit and improve it so that it makes sense?

Tuesday 18th October

I am learning to use the correct features to fit the purpose of an audience.

Success criteria	Me	Mrs Simpson
Write in the first person (I)		✓
Use a range of different sentence starters.	✓	✓
Use the past tense (I looked, I searched, I swabbed...)	.	✓
Use ambitious expanded noun phrases	✓	✓
Use powerful verbs	.	✓
Use conjunctions to explain my thinking and feelings	✓	.
Improve my writing stamina - use paragraphs to organise my ideas	✓	✓
End my writing on a cliff-hanger or hook	✓	✓